

Treasured, Innocent, Wanted

Today I will share with you three reasons why I am prolife.

My first reason is because God treasures and values babies - even those still in the womb. How do I know? The Bible tells us! Psalm 139:13 and 14 says, "For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise thee for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvelous are thy works and that my soul knoweth right well". And Psalm 127:3 says, "Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is His reward."

Babies are "an heritage of the LORD" and "His reward".

Little ones are "fearfully and wonderfully made". Do we have any right to kill someone God treasures so highly? Mamas who throw away their babies are giving up more than they know.

I am prolife to treasure what God treasures.

The second reason why I am prolife is due to the fact that babies are innocent. It makes me sick to hear of adults getting murdered. How much more so of an innocent baby! Is the child in the womb less innocent, not as human, and worth less than an individual who has lived outside of the womb for several years? No! Both should be equally and totally protected from conception to natural death

Another aspect of the issue is that a baby in the womb has no escape, no voice, no lawyer to defend him. The 5th amendment of the Constitution states that “no person shall... be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of the law...”

I am prolife to be a voice for and protect the innocent. Finally, I will tell you my third reason.

Many couples are devastated by the news that they are unable to have children of their own. This news does not mean that their desire to raise a family goes away. Many barren couples and big hearted families would gladly take a would-be-aborted child into their home. “There is always room for one more!” (quote from Sandy Tucker founder of the Galilean Children’s Home in Liberty, Kentucky).

We cannot justify abortion by saying, “The baby was unwanted anyway”, when hundreds of men and women are searching for a baby to take into their family.

I am prolife because babies are longed for and wanted. God treasures babies! Babies are completely innocent!

Babies are wanted!

This is why I am prolife.
