

Why I am Pro-life

I am pro-life because I believe that everyone should be given a chance at life. My mother is the Client Services Director for a pregnancy resource center. She has taught me the truth about life and about abortion – that every baby is already a person from the moment of conception and abortion ends that life. If my mom had decided she wanted to have an abortion, I would not be here today.

There are many reasons why pro-choicers believe that abortion should be legal. One reason is many in our society think that women have the right to choose if the baby should live or not. Some people might believe that if the mother of the child does not want to or cannot provide for her baby she should just be able to abort her child.

Sometimes when women abort their babies they do not understand that aborting a baby is the same as killing them. Some women don't understand but some refuse to understand because they don't like the truth.

Most people in our society would agree that murder is an awful crime but they refuse to see that abortion is the legal murder of a baby in the womb. I am certain that most pro-choicers would agree that murder is terrible but at the same time believe that abortion is ok.

Abortion is not ok; it is killing an innocent child and it is just as wrong as committing murder to a grown human.

Some people think that a baby is not a real human until the woman is far along in her pregnancy or not even until the baby is born.

However, if we can recognize the growing life in an eagle egg we should be able to recognize life in the womb. According to the British Heart Foundation at the university of Oxford, a baby's heart starts beating as early as 3 weeks after conception. The heart beat should be clear evidence of life and if not human life what else could it be? The answer seems clear for anyone who is willing to see it.

Every time I think about my life I am very thankful to my parents for always remembering that every life is precious. Ronald Regan put it best when he said, "I have noticed that everyone that is for abortion has already been born." All human life is special and deserves protection. And that is the truth.
